Soliloquy

The spirit which actuated the pioneers of 1832 when they established an educational institution in the wilderness; the spirit which has permeated alumni, trustees faculty and student body for almost a century; the spirit which has seen visions of a great university when clouds of discouragement were darkest and has gone ahead with indomitable courage when obstacles seemed insurmountable; the spirit which has caused loyal men to serve DePauw for years when opportunity for greater financial reward was offered elsewhere; the spirit which has caused thousands of ambitious young men and women to sacrifice personal comfort that they might enjoy its privileges; the spirit which has crowned its athletic teams in victory and upheld them in defeat; the spirit which cannot be quenched; DePauw spirit which, though intangible, is as actual a part of DePauw as its material equipment and which is the University's greatest asset.

Prologue

Through the medium of honest effort and well meaning endeavor this book has reached its present form. Our hope is that this "Mirage" will truly reflect all that is good and worthy on DePauw's traditional campus.

If when the last page is turned and this volume closed, those interested in DePauw feel a measure of satisfaction with this resume, our cherished reward will have been obtained and our highest hope realized.

The University

Old DePauw has experienced another exceptional year of advancement. The students and faculty of the University feel that they have been particularly fortunate in having as Acting President, Professor H. B. Longden during the absence of President George R. Grose occasioned by a four months' sojourn in China. Professor Longden was advisor, friend and comrade of the student body as well as the official director of the affairs of the University. During his tenure of office he won the admiration and esteem of student body and faculty alike through his tactful, sensible and efficient service to Old DePauw.

After a richly deserved leave of absence for a visit to the Orient, our President returned. Returned to find a loyal and welcoming student body and faculty enthusiastic over the prospects for an added impetus occasioned by his presence. Full co-operation was pledged anew to our beloved President and full appreciation accorded retiring Acting President Longden. We are going forth with added vigor toward a bigger and better DePauw.

With an extensive program of expansion which includes the building of a new Music Hall, Little Theatre and Athletic Field, a prosperous future seems to be in store for DePauw. President Grose is constantly building up an already large Endowment Fund for the University and with this far seeing man at the head of these projects, nothing but success can be the result. Another source of satisfaction to those interested in DePauw is the constantly increasing enrollment, which this year has reached the highest point in the history of the school. Everything indicates a bigger and more prosperous future.

THE TOWERS

The Edward Rector Scholarship Foundation

(HENRY B. LONGDEN, Secretary)

Through the munificence of Mr. Edward Rector, of Chicago, four hundred free scholarships in DePauw University have been established. These scholarships are now open to young men graduates of high schools of Indiana, who rank high in character and excel in scholarship, and they will continue through the four years' course if the work of the student justifies the continuation. They will cover all tuition and fees, both departmental and special, in the College of Liberal Arts. These fees amount on the average to more than $125.00 per annum. A special scholarship is granted to that young man or woman who ranks highest in the work of the Freshman, Sophomore or Junior classes.

EDWARD RECTOR

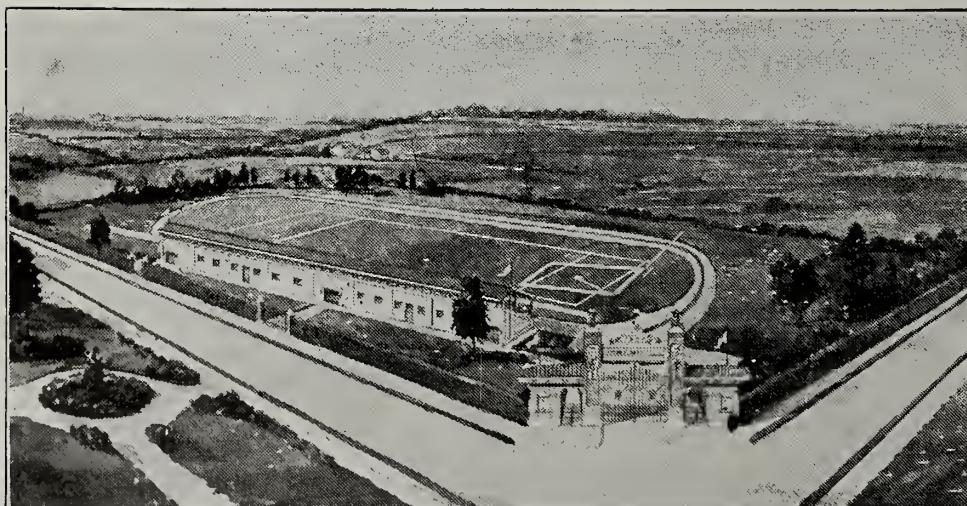

IRA B. BLACKSTOCK

Blackstock Field

The Blackstock Athletic Field, on which work was started in the spring of 1921, will be ready for use by the Tiger football squad next fall according to present plans. The field will consist of a gridiron, a practice gridiron, a quarter mile track and a 220 yard straightaway, tennis courts and a baseball diamond.

The field receives its name because of a twenty-five thousand dollar gift of Mr. and Mrs. Ira B. Blackstock, of Springfield, Ill., which gift is to be used in the promotion of the project.

Mr. Blackstock is a graduate of DePauw in the class of 1886 and has been a trustee of the University since 1907. During this time he has done much for the school and continues to do so. DePauw has long needed a well equipped athletic field, and when Blackstock Field is completed it will rank among the best in the country.

FRED M. WALKER

The New Regime

With the arrival of Coach Fred M. Walker at Greencastle in June 1921, a new athletic system was instituted at DePauw.

Coach Walker came to DePauw from Chicago University, where he was an assistant to Athletic Director Alonzo A. Stagg. He is a graduate of Hyde Park High School of Chicago and of Chicago University. While at the Maroon school, he played full-back, half-back, and end on football elevens, being chosen All-Western wing man in his last year at school. He also starred in baseball as a pitcher and in basketball as a guard.

From college, Coach Walker went into professional baseball and for the last fourteen years has divided his time between baseball and collegiate coaching. During that time he has been connected with the Utah Aggies, University of Mississippi, San Francisco Y. M. C. A., Oregon Aggies, Carnegie Tech., Williams College, Dartmouth, Rhode Island State College, and the New York Agricultural College.

To assist in coaching the Tiger gridsters, Coach Walker brought to DePauw Charles F. O'Brien of Shelburne, Mass. O'Brien played quarter back on the Rhode Island State College team, under the direction of Coach Walker, and was later assistant football coach there. During the 1919 season he played quarterback of the New York Agricultural College eleven. "Obie" made many friends while spending the football season at DePauw.

Scarcely had the new athletic mentor arrived at DePauw when Ned Merriam, track coach at Iowa State Agricultural College, Ames, for the last seven years, signed a three year contract with the DePauw Athletic Board to take charge of track and field athletics and to assist Coach Walker with football work. Coach Merriam starred on the University of Chicago football teams several years ago and was full back on the 1907 eleven that annexed the conference championship. Merriam is rated as one of the four leading track coaches of the land. Last year at the Drake games the relay team of his coaching shattered the world's record in competition with the best of the Western conference.

Student Management

SIMPSON

CARPENTER

Under the efficient leadership of Simpson Stoner and "Van" Carpenter and their corps of assistants, composed of Carlyle Latta, Rex Buckner, George Sandy, Paul Scull, Ralph Richardson, and Brevoort Baker, the affairs of the athletic teams were very well taken care of and the prospects for next years' business management seems well provided for. Especial mention should be made of the way in which the outgoing managers have taken care of the various problems confronting them.

The assistant managers also deserve commendation, for the brunt of the manual labor connected with the teams' affairs usually falls to them. The satisfactory way in which the camp was managed this year would not have been possible without their help.

Varsity Yells

To take the place of the yell leader of '20-'21, "Jimmy" Sheets, the student body elected Hubert Stone of the Freshman Class to lead the yells for the coming season. At the same time Cartwright and Fifer were appointed assistant leaders and the three have done excellent work all the year. Regaled in the Old Gold Jersey and white trousers these men never failed to gain response when they appeared on the floor or the field.

Summer Camp

When the second annual DePauw football camp opened at the Culver Military Academy, August 21, there were some forty candidates, including ten "D" men, reporting for practice. Coaches Walker and Merriam ably assisted by Coach "Bob" Peck of Culver, were in charge of the camp and as in the year before, the men lived in the tents of the academy and had their meals in the large summer mess tent of the Woodcrafters on the shore of the beautiful Lake Maxinkuckee.

The daily program consisted of a two mile run and a plunge in the lake before breakfast, then a practice in the morning and after lunch "chalk talks," followed by another practice. The day was concluded with a walk or boatride in the evening, after which the men as a rule were sent to bed.

The result proved the physical conditioning of a bunch of men who underwent severe punishment in several of the games of the season bringing glory to Old DePauw in each case.

The Squad

No better team ever went out to battle for the Old Gold than the team that trotted out on the field at Notre Dame last fall. The wealth of old men back strengthened by the addition of the Freshman material that appeared at camp, gave promise of a wonder team and the results of the season showed defeats to none but worthy rivals. The "D" men that appeared this fall were Slutz, Ogden, Mendenhall, Krumheuer, Yeager, Kepner, Adams and Moffett. These men formed the nucleus of what appeared to be the strongest eleven that ever represented the school and the decisive victories over the schools played surely demonstrated that they could play the game. No better start could have been had than to have these old fellows back who knew football and who had had the experience of a year or so of Varsity workouts.

The biggest loss of the past three years will be experienced when Moffett, Mendenhall, Slutz, Ogden, Kepner and Yager graduate in June. The berths left open by their departure will be hard to fill, and it will take earnest effort to find men as capable and valuable as these men have shown themselves to be. However, the Old Gold team never has failed to acquit itself creditably and the football season of 1922 is sure to be no exception to the rule of previous years.

DePauw dropped the first game of the season to a surely worthwhile opponent when the Irish almost swamped the Tigers 10-57. The DePauw line failed to work against that of the heavy Irish and Desche and Wynne, the two star hurdlers of the latter romped through it repeatedly for gain after gain. Clark and Bloodgood saved the game from the fire with a touchdown and kick, respectively. This first game, however, gave proof of the strength of the team and its loss is not to be lamented.

Playing the slowest game of the season, the Tigers shut out the Kentuckians in the second game of the year. At no time did the Southerners threaten the DePauw goal. Failing to make a marker during the first quarter, the DePauw line tightened up during the rest of the game and ran through four touchdowns in the last three periods. This makes the second time in two years that the Transylvania team has been unable to score against DePauw.

A weakening in the third quarter allowed the Billikens to gain a lone marker against the Old Gold in the fourth game of the season. The splendid way in which the Tigers played brought forth much favorable comment from the St. Louis papers.

DEPAUW VS. ILLINOIS

Fighting with the spirit that wins, the Tigers, in spite of this fact, went down before the Illini in the only Conference game of the schedule. Zuppke's men failed to penetrate the husky Old Gold line for three quarters when the Tigers eased up and the Blue and Orange succeeded in pushing over three touchdowns before DePauw could tighten up. The only time that the Illini goal was threatened was in the fourth quarter when Bloodgood attempted a drop kick from the thirty-seven yard line.

DEPAUW VS. WABASH
0                    22

Tying the Cavemen for the championship with twelve all, in games won, the Tigers lost the last game of the season in a hard fought struggle. The first time since 1916 that the Wabash delegation has succeeded in romping over the Old Gold made the Crawfordsville team highly joyous. Continued line smashes failed to complete and the score that was rolled up at the start of the game could not be overcome. The third round brought out the kind of ball that the Tigers could really play but it disappeared again, ending in defeat.

The Squad

If the football team can be said to have been one of the best, surely the basketball team can be said to have been one of the super-variety. With some twenty-five men reporting for work-out competition for places on the Varsity squad proved very keen. Consistent practice under the direction of Coach Walker rapidly rounded the material into shape. A Freshman team was organized and met the Varsity in many close games.

The regulars, Cannon, Moffett, Mendenhall, Young, White and Bills formed the main cog of the machine while Laughlin, Allee, and other aids gave added strength. The loss of Cannon and Gipson, it was feared, would slow the team, but instead it came back with a rebound that was wonderful, and made a record for itself that can justly be spoken of with pride.

CANNON MOFFETT CAPT. MENDENHALL YOUNG WHITE

The Season

Romping through the season dropping but three games, the Old Gold basketeers surely did the schedule up brown and brought the praise of state sport writers down on them more than once. The most decisive victory of the year was the trouncing handed Purdue during the Christmas holidays. The Boilermakers—the invincible—were roundly romped over in one of the greatest games ever played on the DePauw floor.

The surprise of the season appeared in the form of the Laughlin-Allee, "Combination," "Lofty" starring as a "free-thower" and the two of them pulling the game out of the fire more than once.

Among the schools defeated were four Conference members, Purdue, Chicago, Northwestern and Indiana. The record of the 1921-22 DePauw Basketball Team will probably remain unequalled for several years. The Tiger team scored 761 points to 446 of its opponents.

With White as the 1922-23 captain, supported by Laughlin, Gipson, Bills, Young and Allee, not to mention the material that will come in with the next freshman class, Old DePauw should have another sterling aggregation.

The Squad

Strengthened by the entrance of Raider, Krumheuer and Bills, the Old Gold baseball squad nucleus, composed of Jordan, Elwyn (Captain), Davis, Darnell, Donner, Fisher and Slutz, began a season that seemed to be full of promise but all through the year the squad was held back by lack of a pitcher. The fast playing nine that outplayed Wabash repeatedly were forced to defeat before the batteries of this opposing team. The Tigers never failed to fight the game out, but the loss of Julian of the previous year, was one that could not be surmounted easily and ineligibility held out the only other pitcher of experience, Glascock. Working hard the team was unable to react against the bit of hard luck that seemed to possess it this season.

The Season

The season this year was indeed unfortunate in the final results, the lack of pitchers becoming more acute as the schedule progressed, and this lack slowly but surely forced the Old Gold out of the running with the stronger teams in this respect. Early season victories gave some little promise of a successful season but after the first whirl the team settled back and was unable to recover.

The prospect for the 1922 season is much brighter, however. With Walker's experience as an old baseball player, the Tigers should take the card clear this year. Several games will be played before the opening of the regular schedule which promise extra training and should put the nine in splendid shape for the games that follow.

The Squad

Under the direction of Coach Bucheit the DePauw thinly clad made creditable showing against their opponents.

The squad consisted of fifteen men under the captaincy of Henry Shoptaugh. Ex-Captain R. Mason and letter men F. Stewart, J. Haase, E. Martin, R. Zechiel, and J. Cady formed the nucleus of the team.

At the close of the season sweaters were awarded to Captain Shoptaugh, R. Mason, H. Snape, J. Haase, E. Martin, J. Cady, F. Stewart and H. Davis.

The Season

Going through the year without six of the old men of 1920, and with just one of them replaced, the squad finished the season in good shape in spite of this deficiency.

Earlham and the Michigan Aggies furnished the principal attractions of the home schedule, while the state meet at Notre Dame afforded a chance for Captain Shoptaugh to set a new record for the high hurdles. Indiana and Wabash completed the schedule resulting in a victory for the latter, while Indiana was tied for honors.

Indoor Meets

ILLINOIS RELAY, MARCH 5, 1921

DePauw was represented by Shopbaugh, Mason, Adams and Cady at the Illinois Relays, the feature track meet of the middle west. Of the eight schools entered in the event, the DePauw representatives placed second in the mile relay.

WABASH, MARCH 27, 1921

With the score running neck and neck until the end, DePauw stood the test and finished thirteen points in the lead. The final score being 53-40. Because of faulty measuring of the track, it was impossible to get accurate time on the events.

ELLSWORTH S. KRANTZ
Physical Director

Along with the new athletic regime at De Pauw came Ellsworth S. ("Pep") Krantz, as instructor in physical education. He hails from Lafayette College in Eaton, Pa., where he was coach of basketball, football and track. During the war he had charge of athletics at Camp Dix, N. J. His excellent work there won him a high recommendation from Major Groffith, who was in charge of all physical work in the United States Army during the war.

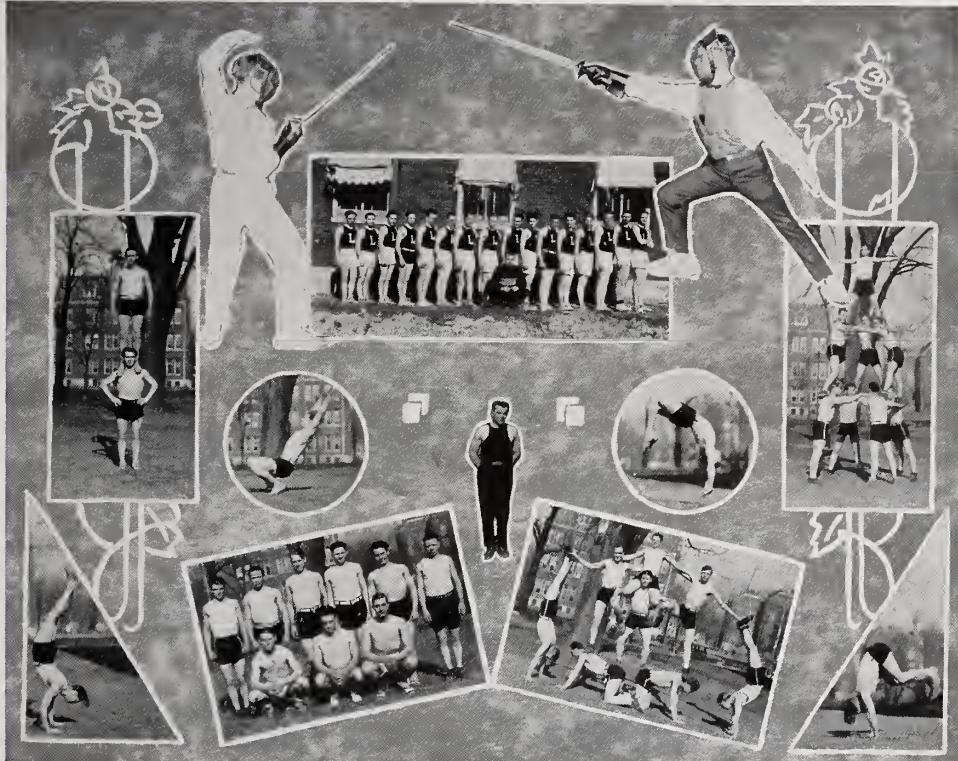

Mr. Krantz has endeavored to keep the men not only physically fit at the present time, but also to give them work which will be beneficial after college days. Average ability to perform on apparatus, to swim and dive, and to participate in games and contests are things that add to the zest of life. The spirit of co-operation between students and director has been wonderful and has established this course on a stronger basis than it has ever been before.

“GYM” FROLICS

The performing of spectacular feats by a few is not the aim of this course, but attention is devoted to the provision of wholesome exercise for many. At the beginning of the year all men enroled are given a medical examination by a physician and a physical examination by the Physical Director, in order that the student may be assigned the type of work best suited to his needs. The work is disciplinary, corrective, educative and possesses the feature of continual progression. The Swedish system of calisthenics is used. Work on the apparatus has been particularly stressed this year. Also all men are required to learn to swim. New features installed by Mr. Krantz are the tumbling class and the leaders corps. The leaders corps, a voluntary organization for advanced work, has contributed a great deal to the success of the work.

FRATERNITY BASKETBALL CHAMPIONS

Intramural Sports

Ending the last year's season of intramural athletics the Lambda Chis won the baseball cup from the Delta Sigs in the final round, hence the cup went to a new house for the second time in as many years.

Bowling held its usual popularity during the fall and winter of '21 and the outcome of the bowling tourney came to light when the Dekes took over the cup in the last roll. Inter-track meets went to the Phi Deltas by the large score of 37 points, while the nearest second was the Beta's thinly clad with 23 points.

Basketball went to the Betas in the final round robin, after they defeated the Phi Gammis and the Delta Sigs.

Co-Ed Gymnasium

Miss Lucy T. Bowen, a graduate of Oberlin College, who did recreational work in France for two years before she came here, took the head of the Department of Physical Education for Women last fall. She has had charge of all Gym classes and a dancing class. Miss Heritage has taken charge of sports and clogging. Gymnasium has been continued in much the same manner that it was begun last year—with the spirit of play instead of strict formality predominating in all the classes. A gymnasium exhibition under Miss Bowen's direction was given by the underclassmen, March 31.

SWIMMING

Under the leadership of Jesse Boland, swimming chairman, swimming has been better organized this year, and consequently an increased interest has been shown in it. The blue cap test can be passed by the ordinary swimmer now and for the expert, there is a club, "The Naiads," to which only those who can pass difficult tests may belong.

HIKING

This year hiking has been more popular than ever before. In addition to the ten-mile and five-mile-in-an-hour hikes, many ten-mile and five-mile-cross-country hikes have been taken and greatly enjoyed, judging by the number of co-eds who continued to come out for them.

W. A. A. Awards

Each year W. A. A. presents a cup to the Senior girl who, in its judgment, is the best all-round athlete, scholar and sports-woman. In 1921 Jane Eagles received this honor.

JANE EAGLES

The association rewards work done in athletics of all kinds with numerals, bars, monograms and sweat-ers, according to the W. A. A. point system. Mary Louise Arnold, '21, was the only girl who won a sweater last year.

Phi Beta Kappa

Phi Beta Kappa is an honorary scholastic fraternity founded in the year 1776, at Washington and Jefferson University. The De-Pauw Indiana, Alpha chapter was established in 1889. Until last year its policy has been to select for membership only those of high scholastic standing in the Senior class. In 1921 this program was altered to include henceforth a limited number of Juniors, the three highest in the class. These are initiated in the spring with those who graduate.

The Initiation Banquet last year was held at the home of Dr. Blanchard, for fourteen new members. Last year's members were:

MARION KENDALL

JOSEPH BARTH	MARY FRALEY	PAUL MORRISON	DOROTHY RITTER
JENNIE STRAIN	EDITH RICHARDS	JUDITH SOLLENBERGER	MARY LOUISE ARNOLD
ELLEN STUDLEY	FRANCES GROSE	GRACE RUTHENBURG	PRUDENCE BLOOD

The DePauw, a semi-weekly publication, issued every Tuesday and Friday, is the official organ of DePauw University, edited and managed by students. The paper has completed its second year as a semi-weekly, having been changed from a daily in 1921.

It is becoming more truly a representative organ of student and University interests. Not only has the circulation been larger than ever before, but this year faculty members and students are using the editorial page as a means of expressing their opinions on topics and situations of campus interest. The University sends it to all the large high schools in the state as a medium well suited to represent its interests.

The DePauw has been published this year by the Riley and Wernike Press of Greencastle, an establishment that has made the mechanical perfection of the paper possible. This has been the office of the paper since 1919.

The DePauw Magazine

The DePauw Magazine is the literary publication of DePauw University, a publication which is rapidly receiving recognition throughout the institutions of the country. It was initiated three years ago by Professor Raymond W. Pence, head of the Department of English Composition, who acts as Managing Editor. To him is due the credit for the high standard and the success of the project.

The Magazine appears quarterly—October, December, March and May of the college year. It contains contributions of students, faculty and alumni and is edited by students under the direction of Professor Pence. Each year it has grown in size and in circulation.

Students who have served as Editors this year include: Oliver Baxter, Gerald Bentley, Morris Bridwell, Jack Bryan, Mary Jane Collins, Margaret George, Bernice Heaton, Harold Laughlin, Judith Sollenberger, Floy Winks, Mildred Panchaud, Forbes Julian, Mary Sipher, Florence Seiders and Mary Grosjean. These editors have been assisted by an editorial staff which includes many Freshmen and Sophomores of the University who are interested in the work.

The Press Club

The DePauw Press Club, organized under the auspices of the Department of Journalism of which Professor Lester E. Mitchell is the head, has for its purpose the furthering of the interest in news writing and in the field of journalism in general. In the past year its membership has been increased greatly. Membership is confined to those who are interested in the work of journalism and have taken some active part in the practical undertaking of the Department. During the past two years national journalists of note have been brought to DePauw to address the meetings of the club. Through the enlargement and extension of the Department of Journalism the Press Club will have an excellent chance for development next year.

The Journalism Press

The Journalism Press is a new project, started in the Course in Journalism in March, 1921. Realizing that journalism, like the sciences, demands a laboratory for proper teaching, Professor Lester E. Mitchell procured some equipment and started the press. This equipment was donated by various friends of the school, and by Theta Sigma Phi, Sigma Delta Chi, and the DePauw Magazine.

The aim of the project is three-fold: (1) To get a laboratory for journalism work. This has been accomplished in part. (2) To create the idea of a journalism press, to do work for the students and townspeople at a reasonable cost. (3) To give employment to students.

In the one year of operation the Journalism Press has turned out work amounting to $725.00. New equipment, wages for student employees, and supplies have amounted to $724.50. The Press is proving that it can be a success; it is proving that when more equipment and space is provided DePauw University can have a journalism laboratory worthy of its name.

The DePauw Journalist

The DePauw Journalist is a paper edited and published by the students in the Department of Journalism. Last year there were two numbers issued and plans for this year are for at least two more. All the material that goes to make up the "Journalist" comes exclusively from the classes in News Writing, Editorial Writing, Advertising, etc.

The School of Music

The School of Music is under the particular supervision of Robert Guy McCutchan, the Dean of Music, and the Faculty of the School of Music. The students are subject to the same general regulations as are the other students of the University. The primary purpose of the DePauw School of Music is to educate the students who desire to make a serious study of music. The school endeavors not only to furnish inspirational instruction through its faculty of artist teachers, but also to furnish the people with a musical atmosphere for the development of taste and discipline.

THE CHAPEL HALL

Meharry Hall

Meharry Hall contains a large three-manual Casavant pipe organ of thirty-three speaking stops with detached console and electric action, which is used daily in the chapel services and other recitals and special services being played at these times by Professor Van Denman Thompson of the Music School.

The Faculty and students of the University record with undefined gratitude their appreciation of this true musician who has shown to them the importance of music in daily life by his clearly organized skill.

The University Choir

The University Choir is composed of sixteen advanced students of the School of Music who are thus given an opportunity for the study of the best sacred music and its rendition. It has become known throughout the state for its excellence of work. For the last three years the choir has made an enjoyable trip to Bay View, Michigan, to furnish the choral music for the Bay View Summer Assembly.

The University Band

The band this year has grown into one of the finest and largest school bands in the state, having sixty-five members, and has proved its merit time after time at the various functions at which it has played. Several new instruments were bought by the band and the expense defrayed by a concert, which displayed the real quality of music played by the organization. The band is to be praised for the splendid way in which it has supported all of the athletic contests, and the fine manner in which Mr. Allen has trained the organization is a real tribute to his leadership.

Men's Glee Club

After two years of great success by the Glee Club this, the third year of activity after five years of inactivity, promises to be one of the best, under the able direction of Mr. Ham. Original sketches by the quartette, combined with the fine ensemble and singing of the Club and the numbers by the soloists, give a variety of program of such high class as has never been heard by the audiences of the Club. The week-end trips and the spring tour of the Glee Club proved highly enjoyable to all, and the Glee Club has never failed to obtain a return date wherever it has been.

Duzer Du

The Duzer Du dramatic fraternity during the year 1921-1922 has done all in its power to promote the best and highest in artistic productions on the DePauw Campus. In the fall, for the Old Gold Day celebration, Duzer Du presented a one act play, "Suppressed Desires." Shortly afterward new members were carefully selected through tryouts, and work was begun on "Clarence." This proved a great success, and the fraternity felt that they had obtained its desired result—namely, pleasing a DePauw audience with something worth while. However, Duzer Du did not stop with "Clarence," but produced "The Genius" early in the spring. This, too, was highly successful, and the organization feels that the year, as a whole, has been one of good achievements.

"The Genius

"The Genius," by William B. and Cecil de Mille, was the play chosen by Duzer Du for their spring production. It is light comedy and affords an excellent opportunity for the Duzer Du members to do their best. A young man, madly in love with a girl who is deeply interested in Art, desires to become an artist almost overnight and many are the amusing situations which result from his attempt. The characters of the sculpturer, the artist and the musician do much towards adding humor to the production.

"Suppressed Desires"

"Suppressed Desires," written by Susan Gaspell, was the Old Gold Day Play presented by Duzer Du. It is the story of a young wife who has become an ardent believer in "Psychoanalysis" and who is trying her best to foist her views upon her husband. In desperation he plays a trick upon her and finally succeeds in making her see things in a common sense light again. The play is a delicious satire upon the new "isms" and "movements" and proved very popular with the Old Gold audience.

Debate

DePauw University has always excelled in Public Speaking. In past years her orators have won in most of the contests entered. In this practical age favor has turned to debate. Our success in both these lines has been due, in the last several years, to the strenuous efforts and fine capabilities of Professor H. B. Gough. Professor Gough is recognized everywhere as one of the best teachers of Public Speaking in the middle west. This year he has been ably assisted by Professor Williams, an old forensic star of DePauw. Under the tutelage of these two men, the debaters of DePauw have brought much honor to themselves and their school, winning three out of a possible four debates. These contests are all scheduled in the Intercollegiate Debate League.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. has been an aggressive force on the campus during the past year. Its aim has been service and much has been accomplished to that end. At the first of the school year a hand book was published, called "The D Book," under direction of the cabinet with Eugene Wechter and Edwin O'Neil in charge. One thousand copies were printed and distributed free of charge to the students. Also soon after the opening of the fall term a mixer was held which proved very successful and helped greatly in getting the freshmen acquainted. The membership campaign, which was conducted shortly after this, resulted in about 250 men joining the "Y" by pledging their support to the complete association objective.

The work which was started last year in connection with boys' community work has been continued with very great success. Several trips have been made this spring which proved of great value not only to the communities visited but also to those who participated.

The weekly devotional meetings which are usually led by some student or member of the faculty, have been varied from time to time by the introduction of outside speakers which have given special interest to the meetings.

DePauw was represented at Lake Geneva last June by a fine delegation of nine men. This has been of great benefit to the "Y" this year and it is hoped to have even a larger representation there this spring.

Through its employment bureau, social service and church co-operative committees the "Y" has served in many ways on the campus.

The Friendship Council

The Friendship Council of the Y. M. C. A. which was established last year, has been continued this year and proved of great value in the work of the "Y." It is composed of the cabinet and the members of the various committees. It has taken part in all the activities of the "Y" and been of real benefit to the campus.

The Movie

Of all the campus service projects that the "Y" has undertaken the movie is probably the most important. Pictures are shown twice a week and it is run under the auspices of the joint cabinets of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. Only the best pictures have been shown and at as low a price as possible. The movie is in direct charge of a student manager chosen by the Y. M. cabinet. Herman Yager has been in charge this year.

The Sub-Cabinet studies a book each year and it is guided in its study by the Vice-President of the Association. The purpose of the Sub-Cabinet is to afford a training school for the cabinet and prepare for leadership in Y. W. The Sub-Cabinet is also a valuable aid to the cabinet in its many works.

Men's Lake Geneva Club

The Lake Geneva Club is composed of DePauw men who have attended the Lake Geneva Student Conference which is held every summer at Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, under the direction of the Young Men's Christian Association.

Lake Geneva is a mountain top of inspiration to every person who has attended one of the student conferences. Student delegations are sent from every college in the middle western states. The conference lasts for ten days. The mornings and evenings are devoted to lectures and discussion of present religious and industrial problems and the afternoons are devoted entirely to athletics and recreation.

Every student who desires a real vision of the significance of Christianity in personal life and in the understanding of national and world problems should attend the Lake Geneva Conference some time during his college career.

DePauw was represented by nine men last summer and it is hoped that fifteen men will attend this summer.

First Row—H. THRASHER, R. MICHAEL, R. CONLEY, D. SOUDER.
Second Row—R. SHIREY, R. McNARY, W. McFADDEN, C. FITZ.

Oxford Club

The ministerial association of DePauw has always been large and active. This year a national organization has been formed. Harold Snape was sent as our representative to the conference, considering this step, which met at Northwestern. An organization was soon made with DePauw as one of the original chapters.

First Row—L. COX, L. GARRISON, B. DeWEESE, M. LONG, E. WACHNITZ, C. GARRISON, C. KUO, L. THOMPSON.

Second Row—I. BUX, D. TOWLE, H. SHIELDS, L. OVERSTREET, H. SCHLEMMER, B. JAMES, G. NEUTZ.

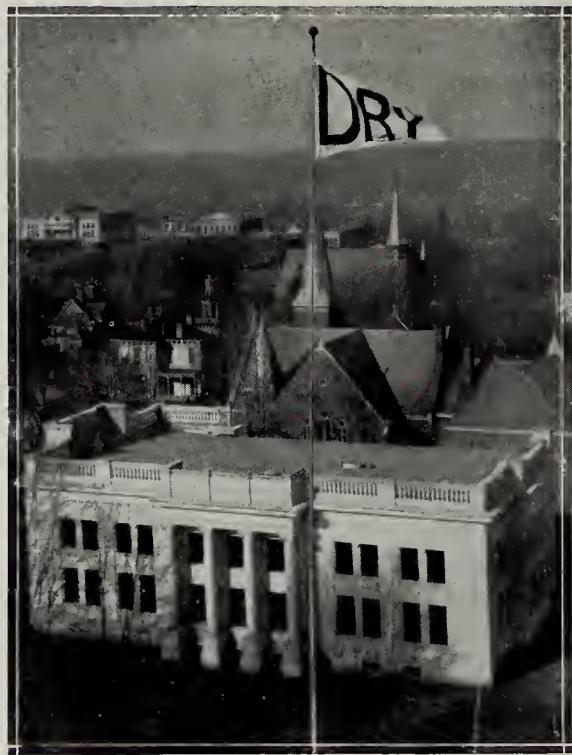

Third Row—G. HIGGS, C. RHOADES, R. FISCHER, C. ROCKWELL, W. DEE.

Student Volunteers

It is the purpose of the Student Volunteer band to awaken and maintain among all Christian students an active interest in foreign missions. It is related organically to the Christian Associations.

Its chief function is to help Student Volunteers measure up to their responsibilities and to become more effective missionaries; and to lay an equal burden of responsibilities on all students who are to remain as ministers and lay workers at home, that they may actively promote the missionary enterprise.

One of its outstanding features is Missionary Education. Some deputation work has been done among Christian churches and Young Peoples' Societies. The missionary play, entitled "The Pill Bottle," has been presented this year.

Prohibition

The above snap was taken during a campaign for local option at which time interest over the issue was very great on the DePauw campus. Students climbed to the tower of East College and secured the picture of the banner which was forty feet in the air.

This picture caused much editorial comment and was run in several papers; one of which was a publication of New Orleans.

QUEEN OF MAY AND HER COURT

May Day

The opening of this Gala Day was with the Y. W. C. A. breakfast, which was served on the campus. This first and overwhelming satisfaction was the initial step toward the happy-go-lucky spirit of the holiday. During the morning the Co-ed Dailies and May Day programs were sold. The last feature of the morning was held on McKeen Field when the participants in the inter-class track meet displayed their unusual athletic ability.

In the afternoon in the hollow of Rosa Bower another old-time custom was repeated when the Seniors wound the May Pole. The festival was given in honor of the Queen of May and her court. The Queen was Unity Thomas, and Mary Fraley was the Maid of Honor. The court was composed of Jeanette Benedict, Marcia Hough, Harriet Emily Powell, Valeria Johnson, Eleanor Mead, Margaret Betz, Gladys Carson and Kathryn Bassett.

Next the W. A. A. pageant, "The Return of Spring," written by Maude Kemp, was given, followed by a play at night given by the W. S. G. A., entitled "Behind the Watteau Picture." After the play the girls of DePauw formed a lantern parade and their glimmering and flickering lanterns swaying to the rhythm of their songs made a fitting conclusion to this Spring Gala Day.

Old Gold Day

Old Gold Day was truly DePauw's golden autumn homecoming. An unusually large number of alumni were back for the celebrations, and every feature of the day was carried out successfully and with an enthusiasm worthy of Old Gold Day spirit. The weather itself, from sunrise to sunset, vied with other elements to make the day a distinct and marked success.

On the clear, crisp morning, the different classes, decked in class garbs and colors, with the Freshmen and Sophomores in fighting togs, marched to the annual Old Gold Day chapel services, which began the day's program. Dr. Addison W. Moore, '90, delivered the address, in which he congratulated DePauw on several scores, noted the changes which had taken place on the campus, and predicted a bright future for the University.

Immediately following chapel services the parade was formed and all moved to McKeen Field, where one of the closest and most exciting class scraps ever staged was fought out. The Sophs narrowly averted disaster time and time again, but when the final shot was fired their flag was still intact. A "trench wrestle" followed the flag rush, in which the Sophomores were again the victors.

The Juniors outclassed the Seniors in an inter-class football game, defeating them 6 to 0.

Short speeches were made by class presidents at the Boulder, following the morning program at McKeen Field.

In the afternoon DePauw rooters and alumni had the satisfaction of seeing Valparaiso trounced with a 41 to 0 score. The Tigers exhibited a high class of football, gaining consistently and making downs with mechanical regularity.

DePauw's big day of festivities culminated in the evening by an entertainment which consisted of plays given by W. S. G. A., Duzer Du, W. A. A. and Hol Slutz Minstrels, all of which were exceptionally good.

The Circus

W. S. G. A.

Something very unusual happened on December 3, 1921, for, although it seemed not in season, a regular old-fashioned circus was put on in the Gymnasium by W. S. G. A.

Balloons, whips, whistles, pop corn, peanuts, ice cream cones and confetti were in abundance. A Negro Minstrel, the Brick Mason's Union, the Black Cat Show, and the gambling joints were among the attractions. DePauwites reveled in a hilarious fashion.

The Xmas Party

The annual Xmas Party, under the direction of the Student Council, and assisted by Music School, proved to be one of the most elaborate and beautiful parties ever staged on the campus. The large Xmas tree on the campus was beautifully decorated and brilliantly illuminated, and here packages of candy were distributed to 200 children by Santa Claus in person. A musical pageant, carried out by Music School, gave to the festivities the sacred and beautiful character so essential for a true Xmas spirit.

Founder's and Benefactor's Day

On February 22 classes were suspended and Founders' and Benefactors' Day observed. At special chapel services in Meharry Hall in the morning, President William Lowe Bryan of Indiana University, gave the day's address. His subject was "Health," taken in its broadest sense, including mental and moral, as well as physical health.

Student Council

Student Council is the official representative of the entire student body. It was an outgrowth of the old DePauw Athletic Association of 1902. Student Council is composed of Student Body Officers, Presidents of W. A. A., W. S. G. A., Mortar Board, Y. W. C. A., Y. M. C. A. and Kappa Tau Kappa, two unorganized representatives, four Senior, three Junior, two Sophomore and one Freshman representative, the Managers of the "D" Association, and the DePauw.

Student Council has charge of Old Gold Day and all class elections and furthers all movements that aim for a better and finer DePauw.

The 1922 "Mirage"

(From the Pen of the Editor)

It has been a pleasure to have been the servant of the Junior Class of '23 in the compiling of this volume. With a staff of loyal classmen responsive to every suggestion, work has progressed in a manner beyond criticism, and it is with a feeling of complete satisfaction that appreciation is recorded here of the efforts of all those concerned with this edition.

The Junior Class, as a whole, shares in this appreciation, for only through its expression has this chance for service been afforded. The Spirit of the Class of '23 has been the inspiration behind this service and, if truly interpreted within these pages, the coveted reward has been attained.

The "Mirage" is in your hands after a year of delightful work in association with members of the class. To the other two members of your board this book has been a source of enjoyment and to them should go equal credit for the success or failure of this attempt to satisfy campus desires and expectations.

The Class of 1924

The Sophomores started the year off in good style, turning the Freshmen back in both the Flag Rush and the Trench Fight. During the past year the class of 1924 has taken over its share of campus responsibilities, being well represented in campus activities and athletics, and high in scholarship. The enrollment of the class is two hundred fifty-two and sixty-three of the men have the honor of being Rector Scholars. The record of the present Sophomore class gives every indication that it will assume the duties of next year's Junior Class with great fitness.

Class Poem

Gradually the hour glass drops its grains of sand
And drifting near to school's end,
We look back upon the acquirements of the year,
The many treasures unfolded by the college we revere.

We find new links coupled to our chain of knowledge.
See many of life's problems come to light in college,
Mysteries unraveled and those higher ideals ingrained,
Secrets of truth and light become our legacy gained.

Then, in prophecy of a better, brighter coming year,
Friendships will be closer and our attachments more dear,
And cause us more whole-heartedly to cherish and love forever,
The best old school in the land, our Alma Mater!

An Appreciation

It is the desire of the staff to recognize here the services of several parties who have particularly contributed their efforts to the success of this book. In many cases, without desire for reward, time and service has been given without stint.

To Hillary A. Bailey, of the Shadowart Studio, is due much credit for his hearty cooperation with the staff and for numerous services and favors granted free of charge. His contributions to the "MIRAGE" have been invaluable and the editor wishes to take this means of thanking him personally for his help.

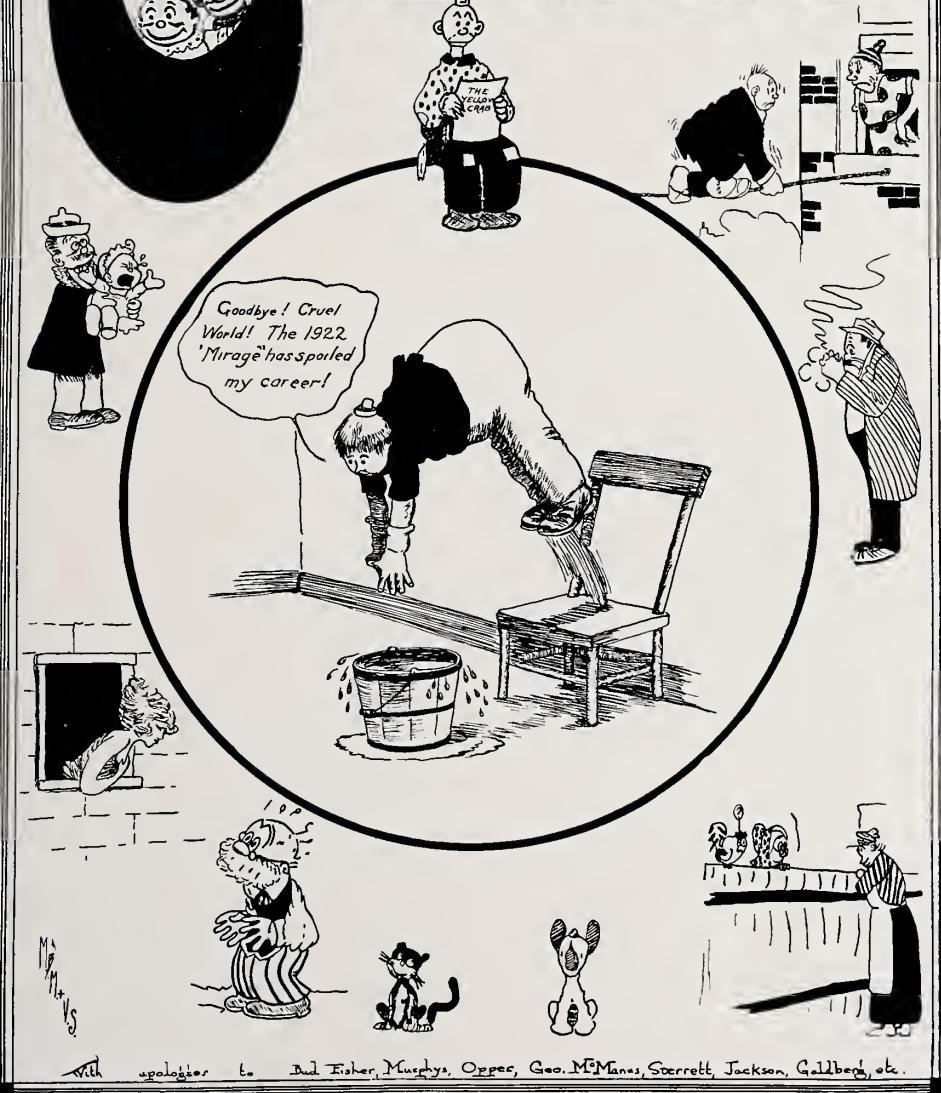

A personal friend of the editor, Virgil Smith, of the Class of '23, is responsible for the majority of the cartoons in this issue. Although Mr. Smith has not been in school this year, having taken his work in Summer School, he has worked hard with the interest of the book at heart. To him we are indebted to an inestimable degree.

Thanks should also go to Orin Fifer, Professor Ham, Harold St. Clair, LeRoy Pickard, and Charles Rayle for their cartoons and designs which have gone into this book, and to Professor Truman G. Yuncker, who has acted as faculty censor.

To the advertisers listed on page 270 we wish to express our gratitude at their patronage, which has made the publication of this volume possible, and assure them of our hearty cooperation in the future.

The Choice of Alma Mater

This is an important question to every boy and girl in high school who is looking forward to college . . It becomes even more important to the college man or woman. The memories that will cling about the old school will be very precious as the years go by . . . There is no disappointment more bitter than that of the alumnus who cannot look back upon his college with pride and affection.

Over five thousand men and women turn back in gratitude and love to "Old DePauw" and rejoice that they can call her Alma Mater

FACULTY PASTIME

"SHE MUST HAVE BEEN A CO-ED."

Was there a gleam within the eye
That sparkled up, so coyly shy?

She must have been a co-ed.
Was there a dimple in the smile
That lingered the semester's while?
She must have been a co-ed.

Was there a laugh within her voice
Which fitted rarely to your choice;
Was here a form of elfin grace,
That seemed unfit for earthly place;
Was hers a face so lovely, sweet,
Your heart went straightway to your feet
To follow ever on and on
Along the pathway she had gone?
She must have been a co-ed.

Was there a twinkle of French heels
Adown the springtly ball-room reels?

She must have been a co-ed.
Was there a dainty stemmed glass
In dainty hand as toasts did pass?
She must have been a co-ed.

Was there a gown that charmed the sight
With its exquisite, fair delight?
Was there a memory of hours
As frangrant as the sweetest flowers;
Was there a dream in your cigar
Of things that were—not things that

Was there a memory you kept
When others died and others slept;
She must have been a co-ed.

A Gateway to Progress

There it stands—a simple forty-foot gateway but unlike any other in the entire world. Through it have come many of the engineering ideas that have made this an electrical America.

The story of electrical development begins in the Research Laboratories. Here the ruling spirit is one of knowledge—truth—rather than immediate practical results. In this manner are established new theories-tools for future use—which sooner or later find ready application.

The great industries that cluster around Niagara Falls, the electrically driven battle ships, the trolley cars and electrified railways that carry millions, the household conveniences that have relieved women of drudgery, the labor-saving electrical tools of factories, all owe their existence, partly at least, to the co-ordinated efforts of the thousands who daily stream through this gateway.

Gertrude Clapper—"I do want to know what instrument Ben Deweiss plays in the Student Volunteer Band."

Carlton—"Who is the busiest man in town?"

Hugh Willmore—"An agent trying to collect at a fraternity house at the end of the month."

Trixie—"What is that elderly lady carrying that black celluloid fan for on this cold day?"

Billie—"My dear, that is an ear trumpet."

The STARR PIANO has been considered for half a century the very criterion of musical excellence.

That is the reason there are more STARR PIANOS in the schools, colleges, universities and other educational institutions of the world than any other instrument. A beautifully illustrated catalog on request.

DOWN IN INDIANY

They's a sparkle in th' air,
They's a perfume in th' breeze
As it whispers through th' trees
Of Indiany.
Say, it's Livin', life is, there—
Not just draggin' through th' days
As they foller, year on year,
Down in Indiany.

Where th' clover scents the winds
Sweeter than all Araby—
Say, it makes you love to be
In Indiany!
You kin have th' other kinds
O' perfume; but my heart finds
Clover's still the best to me—
An' down in Indiany.

Where th' long, green ranks o' corn
Stand a-watchin' over June,
An' th' breezes play a tune
Through their leaves—
Makes a feller glad he's born—
Makes his heart forever yearn,
Like fer some old flame—to spoon
With Indiany!

An' th' harvest brings th' gleam
O' th' yaller, ripened grain—
Sunbeams caught in drops o' rain,
All over Indiany.
Jest a fairyland, a dream
O' th' days that surely seem
Like God's own—so sweet they're pain—
In Indiany.

An' th' fall, that brings th' ears
Long an' golden, hangin' down
From th' trillion stalks so brown—
In Indiany.
When th' days are bright like tears
In th' glad eyes o' th' years—
Oh it's heaven that's been found,
Down there in Indiany.

An' th' winters, snappy cold,
With them zippy, snowy days!
When th' taut wires sing in praise
O' Indiany—
Makes th' young bloods o' th' old,
Gets 'em feelin' spry an' bold
With th' singin' of th' sleighs
Of Indiany.

An' th' gurls! Ah man, th' gurls!
Nowheres else on earth so fair—
Nowheres any that compare
With Indiany's!
Gray or brown eyes, straight hair, curls—
Doesn't matter, each enfurls
Some man's heart and makes him care
For Indiany.

They's a sparkle in th' air,
They's a whisper in th' breeze
As it kisses all it sees
In Indiany.
Say, it's livin', life is, there—
Not just draggin' through th' days
As they foller, year on year,
A-down in Indiany.

"WOULD YOU"

If, some dear night beneath the springtime moon,
As youthful fancies sweetly
turned by June,
She nestled, sighing, gazed into your eyes—
And you leaned nearer in a rapt surprise;
Lips almost touching, you
seemed a lucky bloke
Until—there oozed a cloud of perfumed smoke—
Would You?

If, on some wintry morning
cold and clear,
When breezes blew and zero was too near—
You saw her, shivering, on the corner stand;
You knew you ought to take her by the hand

If, some gay morning stepping down to class,
You met a chic and winsome
little lass;
And, all set up, enraptured by her smile,
You gurgled on together for a while—
Until she paused, and 'mid
your mental goshes,
Did ask if you would fasten her galoshes—
Would you?

And gently lead her midst a
dry goods store,
Where you could get her clothes—and then some more—
WOULD YOU?

To Next Year's Board

A year from now you will sit around a table and go over your Annual. Will the Faculty Advisor smile and say, "The best we have ever published!" --or will you and your class feel that you have failed? The answer largely depends on your choice of an engraving house.

For twenty-eight years the Stafford Engraving Company has been intimately connected with hundreds of the best college and school annuals. It has been our privilege to sit in many board meetings, to aid in solving many problems, to plan for bigger, better things. We are proud that Stafford Service has always given as much as it has received.

We have never been content with past achievements, any more than you will be content with this year's book. Call us into your councils the day you begin, and let Stafford Service work with you to the final triumph of an annual which will again be "The Best Ever"!

The book on the left will be tremendously helpful to you. Ask us how you can get it---FREE
